SERVICES OFFERED: Developed by the Division of ADA and funded by Missouri's Medicaid program and ADA's purchase-of-service system, the Comprehensive Substance Treatment and Rehabilitation (CSTAR) Program provides a full continuum of care approach to substance abuse treatment. CSTAR offers a flexible combination of clinical and supportive services, to include temporary living arrangements when appropriate, that vary in duration and intensity depending on the needs of the consumer. To better address the specific needs of those seeking treatment, four specialized CSTAR programs were developed:

CSTAR Women and Children: Substance abuse affects women in unique ways, both physically and psychologically. These programs are designed for women and their children. Priority is offered to women who are pregnant, postpartum, or have children in their physical care and custody. Depending on assessed needs, additional services may include daycare, housing support and community support for children that accompany their mother into treatment.

CSTAR Adolescent: Early intervention, comprehensive treatment, academic education, and multiple levels of care are important in averting chronic substance abuse and resulting problems that might otherwise follow a young person for a lifetime. Designed for children 12 to 17 years in age, these programs offer the full spectrum of treatment services to Missouri's youth.

CSTAR General Population: These programs offer intensive outpatient treatment services to both men and women with substance abuse problems. The full menu of treatment services is available.

CSTAR Opioid: These medication-assisted treatment programs are designed for medically supervised withdrawal from heroin and other opiate drugs, followed by ongoing treatment and rehabilitation for addiction and related life problems. Priority admission is given to women who are pregnant and persons who are HIV positive. Missouri's opioid treatment programs meet required federal guidelines.

SERVICES OFFERED: Early Intervention Services (Birth to Age Three):

Professional staff of certified educators, therapists and specialists provides a range of highly specialized services to children with diagnosed visual impairments, including those with additional disabilities. Services vary according to need and are designed to encourage each child's optimal development.

Services can be provided in the home or elsewhere if the child is attending a day care center or other program in the community. The frequency and length of the visits are determined according to the needs of the child and the family.

Family Support Services (Available to Families of Children of All Ages):

The Delta Gamma Center supports children with visual impairments, and perhaps other disabilities, by supporting their families. Family members can choose from among the support services offered or can request specific services to address their unique concerns. The staff works to strengthen families by assisting them in learning about their child, their child's unique strengths and needs, the resources available in the community to help them meet those needs and the skills and information necessary to access them.

Buddy Builder Classes (Birth to age 3):

Parent child classes, called Buddy Builders, offer a unique opportunity for parents to connect with, and learn from each other. Classes are held three times each month at the Center for children birth - 3 and their families. Twice a month, families participate in sensory play activities to focus on development in all areas as well as social interaction with other children. The third class is an "out and about" experience where children and their parents can explore community activities that are adapted to be meaningful for them. Monthly outings in the community encourage families to venture out in a safe group, with adaptations.

Buddy Builders classes are a natural way to learn parenting skills while addressing the unique learning needs of these children. Classes provide opportunities to experiment with different lighting, to adapt toys under staff guidance, and to establish connections with other families who can share common concerns and resolutions. A music therapist provides fun and engaging ways to teach new concepts and movement and teachers plan activities for parents and children together. A classroom snack provides a fun atmosphere for addressing feeding and self-care skills. Time to meet with a social worker is available after each class.

- Independent Living Skills Training
- Individual and Systems Advocacy
- Information and Referral
- Peer Consultation
- Transition

ACCESS HOUSING

Access Housing Jefferson County is a Missouri nonprofit organization which seeks to provide affordable housing, with a focus on accessibility for seniors and individuals with disabilities.

DRA is proud to be a part of multiple senior apartment complexes in Arnold and Festus serving seniors age 55 and above. 20% of the units are dedicated to special needs tenants and services are available to all residents, including in home help, transportation, and much more.

DRA obtains and rehabilitates and or retrofits single family homes to Universal Design standards prior to offering them for sale to low / moderate income individuals. The number and availability of these homes is dependent on outside funding sources.

CONSUMER DIRECTED SERVICES

The Consumer Directed Services (CDS) program can provide assistance to individuals with physical disabilities who are 18 years of age or older. Hiring an individual(s) to perform routine tasks of daily living and other tasks the individual(s) is unable to perform alone, allows this person to live independently. Daily living activities can include dressing, undressing, bathing, grooming, housekeeping, meal preparation, shopping, transportation, etc. The CDS program is a program that allows the individual(s) to direct his or her own care which means the individual(s) choose, recruit, hire, train, and manage their own attendant. The individual is the employer not Disability Resource Association.

Requirements of CDS:

Must be 18 years of age or older

Must have a physical disability

Must have Medicaid

Attendant can be a relative but cannot hire a spouse.

EQUINE-ASSISTED THERAPY

Equine-assisted therapy riding is a treatment alternative to traditional clinical settings. Consumers can be influenced by a horse rather than by physical therapy machinery. The different environment and the warmth and rhythmic movement of a horse can be used to achieve therapeutic goals.

Consumers of all ages with a wide range of disabilities can benefit. The types of disabilities that can be served include: amputations, autism, brain injuries, cardiovascular accident/stroke, cerebral palsy, down syndrome, emotional disabilities, hearing/vision impairments, learning disabilities, mental retardation, multiple sclerosis, post-polio, spinal bifida and spinal cord injuries.

The horse's gait produces a motion similar to human ambulation. That motion can strengthen and support the spine and pelvis. It can also stimulate endorphins in the brain that can ultimately reduce the sensation of pain.

Riding can boost self-confidence, trust and pride as a result of mastering new skills. Riders with physical disabilities can show improvements in flexibility, balance and muscle strength. Riders with mental disabilities can increase confidence, patience and self-esteem. Our participants come into the program determined not to let their disabilities define them. Instead, they embrace their new experiences and utilize their accomplishments in other areas of their daily lives.

IN HOME SUPPORT SERVICES

◆ Homemaker services consist of general household activities provided by a trained homemaker when the individual regularly responsible for these activities is temporarily absent or unable to manage the home care for himself/herself.

◆ Optional homemaker chore services provide assistance with intermittent household tasks necessary to the maintenance of a safe and habitable home environment.

◆ Basic personal care are medically oriented tasks, which are prescribed by a physician to meet a client's physical needs and thereby enable the client to remain in his or her home and be treated on an outpatient basis rather than in a hospital or nursing facility.

◆ Advanced personal care are maintenance services provided to a recipient in the individual's home to assist with activities of daily living when this assistance requires devices and procedures related to altered body functions.

To avoid waiting in line, attendees should arrive early as the crowd is very large. Individuals physically unable to waiting in line should call DRA to make arrangements in advance.

JEFFERSON COUNTY HUNGER TASK FORCE

Jefferson County Hunger Task Force (JCHTF) was established due to the great economic needs of families in Jefferson County. Our food pantries have had a large increase in families who need food and personal care items. Many of the food pantries are unable to keep up with the high demands. The Jefferson County Hunger Task Force works with many community organization and companies to improve the conditions facing families in Jefferson County. Site:

Once an individual determines that a piece of equipment meets their immediate needs, that item is loaned to them. After equipment is loaned, a representative from Rehabilitation Services for the Blind will visit them in person to provide permanent equipment for daily use. All equipment loaned by DRA is returned after the individual receives further services from Rehabilitation Services for the Blind. This process maintains the equipment supply of the Low Vision center.
